RED ARMY SMASHES THROUGH GERMAN DEFENSES; PRESSES ON TO WITHIN 70 MILES OF MAJOR BASTION OF MINSK

Soviet Onslaught Threatens Immediate Fall of Mogilev and Early Capitulation of Bobruisk After Driving Into Germans' "Fatherland Line."

MOSCOW, June 28.—(INS)—Red Army assault columns, smashing through German defenses in White Russia in offensive drives which threatened encirclement of hundreds of thousands of Nazis, pressed forward today to within less than 70 miles of the major enemy bastion of Minsk on the main line to Warsaw.

The Soviet onslaught threatened immediate fall of Mogilev and early capitulation of Bobruisk after driving into the Germans' "Fatherland Line."

Red Army units pursuing German forces driven from Orsha reached points less than 50 miles from Borisov, on the rail line between Orsha and Minsk. The vast German army immediately to the west faced encirclement in the triangular area formed by Orsha, Borisov and Minsk.

At Mogilev the Soviets battled the Germans in the streets and other Russian troops encircled Bobruisk to the southwest and pressed into the suburbs.

Dog Kills 29 Turkeys In Cage Near Pumping Station

The turkeys were owned by Clarence Garrison, who is employed at the Bristol sewage pumping station.

The turkeys were in a wire cage three feet off the ground on a plot of ground near the pumping station. The cage has a wire floor and the dog tore a large hole in one side, dragged the young turkeys out and then left them dead beneath the cage.

War Mothers To Give Afghan To Hospital

The mothers have knitted several hocks for an Afghan which will be donated for use of men in one of the veterans' hospitals. Mrs. Paul White is sewing the squares together. The members plan another canteen in July.

The meeting closed with prayer for boys in the service. Mrs. Elwood Knight was accompanied as the group sang "God Bless America." The members then exchanged box lunches.

POWER FOR PEACE

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal knows as well as any man alive what a task it was to build the United States fleet up to its present tremendous peak of power. He knows the value of that fleet in war and its value in the preservation of peace. In a speech at Princeton University he gave the American people some good advice about it.

When peace comes, he said, the American people must realize that they are not immune to war. He said Americans must not permit their idealism to persuade them to disarm. He said that while an international organization eventually may achieve a guaranty of peace, until it functions effectively peace may be obtained only through the existence of the armed forces of the United States and her Allies. And as one of the greatest elements of that force, he insisted, the Navy must be maintained after the war.

"We must not destroy our existing naval power," said Secretary Forrestal, "or accept limitations upon our ability to add to it, either qualitatively or quantitatively, while others who have no real faith in the possibility of world peace are left free to arm."

And until such a faith becomes worldwide in its acceptance, the American people must not let their idealistic hopes for peace obscure the realistic need for maintaining the armed might to ensure it.

BASEBALL IN BRITAIN

Baseball is reported to be making some headway in England, although how long it will last when the war is over and the Americans have pulled out for home is a question. Eight professional football clubs in northern England have formed a league to play baseball this summer on the football grounds. Other football leagues in England are watching this experiment, and if it works the movement may expand.

Baseball under American rules started in Liverpool in 1933. A National Baseball Association was formed and spread to Lancashire, Yorktown, Cardiff, Birmingham and London. At the outbreak of the war there were 1,000 baseball clubs in England, mostly in the north. When the first American troops arrived these clubs loaned them baseball paraphernalia for play. Now the Americans have their own bats, balls and mitts and are helping out the newly-formed English clubs with equipment.

Whether England ever becomes a baseball nation depends upon public response. Popularity is uncertain unless the schools take it up, and they are addicted to football and cricket. The crowds follow the school games. Recently a baseball game in London attracted 4,000 people, which is nothing to brag about.

Anyhow, it isn't important. The Japs took up baseball in a big way, and much good it did them.

Another thing that makes the Republican convention different is that it has no loudspeakers connected with Chicago sewers.

The production front is just as important to victory as the fighting front. In order to keep up production of Plexiglas, Lethane, Primal, Lykopol and other vital war materials, we must bring in workers from outside areas—and they must have living quarters.

If you have a spare room for a man or woman in Bristol or vicinity, here is a chance to help the war effort and add to your income at the same time. Phone Bristol 875—ask for Personnel Dept. ### Today's Quiet Moment (By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor
Bristol Presbyterian Church

O Heavenly Father, at whose command the world was made, from Whose lips did come the breath of life, and from Whom we receive the gift of eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord, accept our lives as we place them on the altar of service, and use them in accordance with Thy will. Impress upon our hearts and minds that man's highest satisfaction, and man's only abiding happiness is to be obtained when he sees the divine Way and walks in it. May we thus commit ourselves to Thee this day, that we might have this peace, and that Thy Name might be glorified through us. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

"That Time" of the Month

Periodic functional pains don't worry me now. Thanks to those grand new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills! My druggist tells me the reason they're so effective is because of a special ingredient which is intended to help relieve the tension that causes functional distress. It works by helping to relax the affected part—not merely by deadening pain. The new Chi-Ches-Ters contain an added iron factor, too, intended to act as a tonic on your blood. Try the new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills on your "difficult days." Ask your druggist tomorrow for a 50c size and follow directions on the package.

Woolvin Holds "Badies" To Six Hits During Evening

The Diamond and Badenhause teams played an interesting match on the Maple Beach diamond last evening with victory going to the Diamond team by the score of 7-6.

The game was called by Empire Lynch in the seventh after Badenhause had scored twice and taken an 8-7 lead but as the inning was incomplete, the score went back to the sixth, giving Diamond the victory.

Woolvin did the hurling for Diamond, holding the Badies to six hits. Coombs pitched for the Cornwells nine and was solved for nine blows with Mandio, Keyes and Yates getting a pair of hits each.

The winning markers were scored in the last half of the sixth on two errors, two stolen bases, a walk, and hits by Woolvin and Mandio.

CASE PACKERS GAIN WIN OVER FLEETWINGS

Al Bretfel's home run with a runner on base in the eighth helped the Case Packers to a 6-4 victory over Fleetwings last evening on the high school field.

The four-base ply spoiled Joe McDewitt's debut as a hurler in the Trenton circuit. McDewitt was touched for 10 hits by the Packers while his mates had seven hits off Deafoff.

Of the seven safe blows made off the Trenton hurler, D'Ascendis hit a homer in the fourth with the bases bare and then got a hit in the seventh while Calderone came through with two triples.

Dewey-Bricker To Be Nominated Today

port Dewey for the presidential right from the platform of the convention.

The peace treaty provided that the Pennsylvania delegation will place Bricker's name in nomination. This honor went to Pennsylvania to "let them off the hook" as the Pennsylvanians previously had canceled and cast their 70 votes for Gov. Earl Warren of California for the vice-presidency. That was be-

Thus complete harmony came to the convention.

By William K. Hutchinson
L. N. S. Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 28.—(INS)—At long last it will be Dewey and Bricker.

The 23rd Republican National Convention today will nominate Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, for the Presidency and Governor John W. Bricker, of Ohio, for the Vice Presidency, with the New Yorker flying to Chicago from Albany to accept the nomination. Only a Bricker refusal will keep him off the ticket.

Dewey will win the top post on the first ballot, having a minimum of 577 votes in the International News Service poll of delegations. The name of Governor Bricker, however, will be entered against him, along with that of Harold L. Stassen, the former Governor of Minnesota. Bricker has a maximum of 112 votes and Stassen but 36, though both may lose some on the actual balloting.

Bricker is perfectly aware of his impending defeat but at an early hour this morning he was perfectly willing to accept it. Bricker has made a lot of pledges that he will not quit the Presidential race and insists his name should go before the Convention as a matter of principle.

By balloting time, he may decide to ask the convention to nominate Dewey by acclamation.

In any event, the Dewey forces publicly invited Bricker to share the ticket. J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman, told a midnight news conference that "we from New York think Governor Bricker has all the qualifications for the Vice Presidency and if he is the choice of the Convention, we from New York will be glad to join with the other delegates."

Sprague also insisted that Governor Dewey would not attempt to dictate the Vice Presidential nomination.

There were rumors during the early morning hours that Bricker was not satisfied with the Sprague declaration, if that be true. Governor Dewey is expected to correct the situation by a personal talk with Governor Bricker—but not before being actually nominated for the Presidency.

This Dewey-Bricker ticket was made possible when Governor Earl Warren, of California, a sure-fire victor in the Vice Presidential race, re-announced his determination not to accept the office. It developed that Governor Warren had been making the same statement for weeks, since he released the California delegation. But the Dewey forces and the convention generally didn't take him seriously until last night.

Warren stepped completely out of the picture by telling his own state delegation in a dramatic speech and the Oregon delegation in a letter that he would not accept the nomination. Warren told of many "obligations," which he did not describe, and said:

"I cannot accept the nomination because of my obligations."

To the Oregon delegation, which offered to place his name in nomination, Warren wrote:

First-Half Champs Put The Game On Ice in The Sixth Inning

EDGELEY, June 28.—In the closing game of the first-half of the Bristol Suburban League, the Voltz-Texaco nine landed Alcoa a 6-1 reverse on the Edgely diamond last evening.

Hystie Grimes, who pitched for the gasoliers, was nipped for ten hits by the Alcoa batsmen but he kept them scattered and was very effective in the pinches.

The winners collected 13 hits off Jim Woods and were led by Alex Dewsnap and Bill, who had three hits each, including a two-bagger each.

The first-half champs put the game on ice in the sixth by counting four runs on hits by Smith, Grimes, Dewsnap, Leigh and Black.

"I could not accept a nomination for a place on the national ticket if it were offered. I have never before said that I would not accept the support of any delegation or that I would not accept such a nomination, because no delegation had expressed a desire to vote for me."

"I say this in deepest gratitude for the confidence you have expressed in me, and with the assurance that I will do everything in my power for the success of our national candidates at the November election."

Just as Dewey will get mild opposition for his post, so will Bricker get some opposition. Early today, it appeared William L. Hutcheson, AFL leader, and possibly the names of both Governor Dwight Griswold, of Nebraska, and Governor Simon Willis, of Kentucky might be offered to the convention.

Dewey, after reaching Chicago by plane from Albany—good weather permitting—will remain here several days to complete reorganization of the National Committee. At the moment, Sprague, one of his three managers, is favorite for the role of Republican national chairman. Sprague, however, has said he would not accept it. This made Herbert Brownell, New York attorney, a second-choice but he too is said to prefer to remain in his private practice though giving Dewey every aid during the campaign.

This reluctance on the part of the New Yorkers created rumors that Dewey would shatter precedent by going outside his state to get his national chairman.

TALISMAN

Sleep—and dream on;
Not yet are all thy destinies dis-interred.

Nor all thy saddened hopes unheard
Nor so deeply buried in dismay.
Weep until dawn?

Nay, Tears from out the closures of thy heart
Are but admittance of defeat. Depart.

Oh night, into a tranquil day.
Mt. Olympus' cliffs
Have still the hand-holds to thy deep 'graved niche

(So far above the precipitous climb) of which
The precarious pitfalls are not few.
Oh Hope, 'That drifts
Into the abyssal depths of manifest despair.

Hold high thy head; Each crevice
there
Is but a step unto thy due.
High waves thy banner—
The embodiment of all thy hopes and dreams

(Surcharged with Faith against Fate's schemes)

The Talisman of Immortality!
Step in such manner
To disregard the forebodings of said Fate;

Steel thy soul against heart hurt and the hate
That looms into Eternity.

Faith, Hope and Prayer—
Let these be thy Talisman!

RED ARMY SMASHES THROUGH GERMAN DEFENSES; PRESSES ON TO WITHIN 70 MILES OF MAJOR BASTION OF MINSK

Soviet Onslaught Threatens Immediate Fall of Mogilev and Early Capitulation of Bobruisk After Driving Into Germans' "Fatherland Line."

MOSCOW, June 28.—(INS)—Red Army assault columns, smashing through German defenses in White Russia in offensive drives which threatened encirclement of hundreds of thousands of Nazis, pressed forward today to within less than 70 miles of the major enemy bastion of Minsk on the main line to Warsaw.

The Soviet onslaught threatened immediate fall of Mogilev and early capitulation of Bobruisk after driving into the Germans' "Fatherland Line."

Red Army units pursuing German forces driven from Orsha reached points less than 20 miles from Borisov, on the rail line between Orsha and Minsk. The vast German army immediately to the west faced encirclement in the triangular area formed by Orsha, Bobruisk and Minsk.

At Mogilev the Soviets battled the Germans in the streets and other Russian troops encircled Bobruisk to the southwest and pressed into the suburbs.

Dog Kills 29 Turkeys In Cage Near Pumping Station

Twenty-nine young turkeys were killed by a dog, it is believed, sometime during Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

The turkeys were owned by Clarence Garrison, who is employed at the Bristol sewage pumping station.

The turkeys were in a wire cage three feet off the ground on a plot of ground near the pumping station. The cage has a wire flooring and the dog tore a large hole in one side, dragged the young turkeys out and then left them dead beneath the cage.

War Mothers To Give Afghan To Hospital

The mothers have knitted several hocks for an Afghan which will be donated for use of men in one of the veterans' hospitals. Mrs. Paul White is sewing the squares together. The members plan another canteen in July.

The meeting closed with prayer for boys in the service. Mrs. Elwood Knight was accompanied as the group sang "God Bless America." The members then exchanged box lunches.

POWER FOR PEACE

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal knows as well as any man alive what a task it was to build the United States fleet up to its present tremendous peak of power. He knows the value of that fleet in war and its value in the preservation of peace. In a speech at Princeton University he gave the American people some good advice about it.

When peace comes, he said, the American people must realize that they are not immune to war. He said Americans must not permit their idealism to persuade them to disarm. He said that while an international organization eventually may achieve a guaranty of peace, until it functions effectively peace may be obtained only through the existence of the armed forces of the United States and her Allies. And as one of the greatest elements of that force, he insisted, the Navy must be maintained after the war.

"We must not destroy our existing naval power," said Secretary Forrestal, "or accept limitations upon our ability to add to it, either qualitatively or quantitatively, while others who have no real faith in the possibility of world peace are left free to arm."

And until such a faith becomes worldwide in its acceptance, the American people must not let their idealistic hopes for peace obscure the realistic need for maintaining the armed might to ensure it.

BASEBALL IN BRITAIN

Baseball is reported to be making some headway in England, although how long it will last when the war is over and the Americans have pulled out for home is a question. Eight professional football clubs in northern England have formed a league to play baseball this summer on the football grounds. Other football leagues in England are watching this experiment, and if it works the movement may expand.

Baseball under American rules started in Liverpool in 1933. A National Baseball Association was formed and spread to Lancashire, Yorktown, Cardiff, Birmingham and London. At the outbreak of the war there were 1,000 baseball clubs in England, mostly in the north. When the first American troops arrived these clubs loaned them baseball paraphernalia for play. Now the Americans have their own bats, balls and mitts and are helping out the newly-formed English clubs with equipment.

Whether England ever becomes a baseball nation depends upon public response. Popularity is uncertain unless the schools take it up, and they are addicted to football and cricket. The crowds follow the school games. Recently a baseball game in London attracted 4,000 people, which is nothing to brag about.

Anyhow, it isn't important. The Japs took up baseball in a big way, and much good it did them.

Another thing that makes the Republican convention different is that it has no loudspeakers connected with Chicago sewers.

NORTH to DANGER by TOM GILL

SYNOPSIS

Having helped Colin Rae, of the Hendrick Bay Company, to escape mysterious pursuers at Winnipeg, the youthful Irina Meredith went north to meet her elderly fiancé, Rodney Selkirk, at Learmonth. Colin is investigating the seemingly frail, mild mannered Jonathan Dove, head of two Indian schools and a power among trappers. "Once I heard him called the most dangerous man in Canada," Colin told Irina. Eluding Dove, left behind in Winnipeg, Colin and Irina flew in a small plane, owned and piloted by Blair Benedict, former school-girl chum of Colin. Heavy snow forced her to make an emergency landing at Trappers Lake where the veteran Alec Gunn sheltered the trio. Next morning, Alec and Blair started on foot for Learmonth, Irina and Colin soon following. Colin tells Selkirk what he knows of the murder of Van Downe, another Company agent, and why he still suspects Dove though the latter has been cleared officially.

CHAPTER NINE

Again Selkirk shook his head. "After all, your only reason for suspicion lies in seeing Dove on the trail."

"No, you're wrong," Colin rose to his feet. "I've two more reasons. First, Dove is worried; he doesn't know how much Van Downe told me. The day I left Wolverine, two of Dove's trappers came down on the same train. I'm pretty sure they went through my baggage, and I think they intended to give me the works and then swear I started a fight. As soon as it was dark, I jumped off the train and hired a car to Winnipeg. They were there ahead of me; they figured that I'd make straight for the company office with any information I might have, and they were waiting for me."

"I dodged them and went to the hotel. I knew if I didn't get out of Winnipeg quick, they were bound to catch up with me. At the hotel I heard Miss Meredith ask about flying to Learmonth, and we chartered Blair's plane to fly here. By this time, Dove must know where I am, but the last boat of the year left two days ago, there are no more planes to charter in Winnipeg, and Canadian Airways won't start until the lakes freeze. So I've some time to look around."

"And after that?"
"After that, my guess is Dove will be here, too; and if he decides I'm really dangerous—" Colin gave a short laugh of irritation. "I never thought I had a nerve in my body, but I can't forget the look on Van Downe's face, and I won't ever forget Dove as he walked by me that night, humming to himself, and his fingers moving."

"For a while both men were silent. "It's hard to believe," Selkirk murmured, "and yet—" He watched the smoke rising from his cigar. "You said you had two reasons for believing Dove guilty. What was the second?"

"This." From his pocket Colin drew out a photograph. It was wrinkled and yellow with age, but it showed a group of twelve young officers of the Royal Canadian Air Force. "This was taken in nineteen-seventeen. I found it behind Van Downe's desk. He might have been looking at it the night of his death and shoved it out of sight when he heard the killer coming. Rod, I believe this photograph is what he wanted me to see."

Colin pointed to one of the men. "That's Van Downe. He was among the youngest pilots in the First World War. But look at that little fellow on the left. See anything familiar?"

Curiously Selkirk held it to the light. "Something perhaps." He straightened. "It certainly couldn't be Dove."

"I wonder. I've asked myself that question a hundred times. The face bears no resemblance, but the eyes—and the hands."

"Can't you trace it back?"
"That was one reason I went to Winnipeg. I—" Colin stopped. Behind him the door creaked. No

On the threshold, blandly smiling, stood Jonathan Dove.

BADENHAUSEN AND DIAMOND PLAYERS HAVE CLOSE GAME

Victory Goes To Diamond Nine by Score of 7 to 6

Called in Seventh

Woolvin Holds "Badies" To Six Hits During Evening

The Diamond and Badenhause teams played an interesting match on the Maple Beach diamond last evening with victory going to the Diamond team by the score of 7-6. The game was called by Umpire Lynch in the seventh after Badenhause had scored twice and taken an 8-7 lead but as the inning was incomplete, the score went back to the sixth, giving Diamond the victory.

Woolvin did the hurling for Diamond, holding the Badies to six hits. Coombs pitched for the Cornwells nine and was solved for nine blows with Mandio, Keyes and Yates getting a pair of hits each.

The winning markers were scored in the last half of the sixth on two errors, two stolen bases, a walk, and hits by Woolvin and Mandio.

TRENTON INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE Schedule for Tonight

American Steel vs. Rohm & Haas (Maple Beach Field)

TRENTON, June 28.—The Rohm & Haas team lost its 16th straight game of the Trenton Industrial League last night on Wetzel Field as the league-leading Prison Officers scored a shut-out triumph, 4-0.

In blanking the Bristol boys, Fred Burkley allowed but three hits. Two of these went to Harry Myers and the other to Seddie Caro. The Guards had seven hits and bunched four of these in the fourth to score a trio of markers.

CASE PACKERS GAIN WIN OVER FLEETWINGS

Al Brettell's home run with a runner on base in the eighth helped the Case Packers to a 6-4 victory over Fleetwings last evening on the high school field.

The four-base ply spoiled Joe McDewitt's debut as a hurler in the Trenton circuit. McDewitt was touched for 10 hits by the Packers while his mates had seven hits off Dearoff.

Of the seven safe blows made off the Trenton hurler, D'Ascendis hit a homer in the fourth with the bases bare and then got a hit in the seventh while Calderone came through with two triples.

port Dewey for the presidential right from the platform of the convention.

The peace treaty provided that the Pennsylvania delegation will place Bricker's name in nomination. This honor went to Pennsylvania to "get them off the hook" as the Pennsylvanians previously had cancelled and cast their 70 votes for Gov. Earl Warren of California for the vice-presidency. That was before Warren withdrew from the race. Thus complete harmony came to the convention.

By William K. Hutchinson
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, June 28.—(INS)—At long last it will be Dewey and Bricker.

The 23rd Republican National Convention today will nominate Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, for the Presidency and Governor John W. Bricker, of Ohio, for the Vice Presidency, with the New Yorker flying to Chicago from Albany to accept the nomination, only a Bricker refusal will keep him off the ticket.

Dewey will win the top post on the first ballot, having a minimum of 857 votes in the International News Service poll of delegations. The name of Governor Bricker, however, will be entered against him, along with that of Harold L. Stassen, the former Governor of Minnesota. Bricker has a maximum of 112 votes and Stassen but 36, though both may lose some on the actual balloting.

Bricker is perfectly aware of his impending defeat but at an early hour this morning he was perfectly willing to accept it. Bricker has made a lot of pledges that he will not quit the Presidential race and insists his name should go before the Convention as a matter of principle.

By balloting time, he may decide to ask the convention to nominate Dewey by acclamation.

In any event, the Dewey forces publicly invited Bricker to share the ticket. J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman, told a midnight news conference that "we from New York think Governor Bricker has all the qualifications for the Vice Presidency and if he is the choice of the Convention, we from New York will be glad to join with the other delegates."

Sprague also insisted that Governor Dewey would not attempt to dictate the Vice Presidential nominee.

There were rumors during the early morning hours that Bricker was not satisfied with the Sprague declaration, if that be true, Governor Dewey is expected to correct the situation by a personal talk with Governor Bricker—but not before being actually nominated for the Presidency.

This Dewey-Bricker ticket was made possible when Governor Earl Warren, of California, a sure-fire victor in the Vice Presidential race, re-announced his determination not to accept the office. It developed that Governor Warren had been making the same statement for weeks, since he released the California delegation. But the Dewey forces and the convention generally didn't take him seriously until last night.

Warren stepped completely out of the picture by telling his own state delegation in a dramatic speech and the Oregon delegation in a letter that he would not accept the nomination. Warren told of many "obligations" which he did not describe, and said:

"I cannot accept the nomination because of my obligations."

To the Oregon delegation, which offered to place his name in nomination, Warren wrote:

VOLTZ-TEXACO IX DOWNS ALCOA IN GAME AT EDGELY

First-Half Champs Put The Game On Ice in The Sixth Inning

EDGELEY, June 28.—In the closing game of the first-half of the Bristol Suburban League, the Voltz-Texaco nine handed Alcoa a 6-1 reverse on the Edgely diamond last evening.

Hystie Grimes, who pitched for the gasoliers, was nicked for ten hits by the Alcoa batsmen but he kept them scattered and was very effective in the pinches.

The winners collected 13 hits off Jim Woods and were led by Alex Dewnsnap and Bill, who had three hits each, including a two-bagger each.

The first-half champs put the game on ice in the sixth by counting four runs on hits by Smith, Grimes, Dewnsnap, Leigh and Black.

"I could not accept a nomination for a place on the national ticket if it were offered. I have never before said that I would not accept the support of any delegation or that I would not accept such a nomination, because no delegation had expressed a desire to vote for me."

"I say this in deepest gratitude for the confidence you have expressed in me, and with the assurance that I will do everything in my power for the success of our national candidates at the November election."

Just as Dewey will get mild opposition for his post, so will Bricker get some opposition. Early today, it appeared William L. Hutcheson, AFL leader, and possibly the names of both Governor Dwight Griswold, of Nebraska, and Governor Simeon Willis, of Kentucky might be offered to the convention.

Dewey, after reaching Chicago by plane from Albany—good weather permitting—will remain here several days to complete reorganization of the National Committee. At the moment, Sprague, one of his three managers, is favorite for the role of Republican national chairman. Sprague, however, has said he would not accept it. This made Herbert Brownell, New York attorney, a second-choice but he too is said to prefer to remain in his private practice though giving Dewey every aid during the campaign.

This reluctance on the part of the New Yorkers created rumors that Dewey would shatter precedent by going outside his state to get his national chairman.

TALISMAN

Sleep—and dream on;
Not yet are all thy destinies disinterred,
Nor all thy saddened hopes unheard
Nor so deeply buried in dismay.
Weep until dawn?
Nay, Tears from out the closures of thy heart
Are but admittance of defeat. Depart.
Oh night, into a tranquil day.
Mt. Olympus' cliffs
Have still the hand-holds to thy deep 'graved niche
(So far above the precipitous climb) of which

The precarious pitfalls are not few.
Oh Hope, That drifts
Into the abyssal depths of manly despair,
Hold high thy head; Each crevice there
Is but a step unto thy due.
High waves thy banner—
The embodiment of all thy hopes and dreams
(Surcharged with Faith against Fate's schemes)
The Talisman of Immortality! Step in such manner
To disregard the forebodings of said Fate;
Steel thy soul against heart hurt and the hate
That looms into Eternity.

Faith, Hope and Prayer—
Let these be thy Talisman!
